Directions from underground stations

Bond Street

Leaving by exit to Marylebone Lane is best, but this is not the most obvious exit.

Leave the underground station and turn left into Marylebone Lane. Walk up to Henrietta Street (next on the right) and turn right. Then pass Debenhams, keeping it on your right and you'll find LICC in front of you as you cross Vere Street.

Should you miss the Marylebone Lane exit, you may end up coming up either to Oxford Street or West One Shopping Centre. Do NOT go towards the shopping centre. Head for Oxford Street. Turn right at the top of the stairs and cross Oxford Street. Keep Debenhams on your left and turn left into Vere Street, still keeping Debenhams on the left. LICC is ahead on the right, with the entrance on Vere Street.

Oxford Circus

Oxford Circus is a complex station, with 8 or more exits.

Leave by an exit that takes you on to Oxford Street. Exit 1 is best, but not always accessible from the many escalator routes to the surface. Exits 1 to 4 come up at the Regent Street-Oxford Street junction. Otherwise, aim for an exit that comes up directly on to Oxford Street (it should be a left turn as you emerge from the station). Aim for the cross roads with Regent Street.

You then need to be on the north side of Oxford Street, which normally means crossing the road. Head north up Regent Street (towards All Souls, Langham Place, which is visible as Regent Street bends round to the left – if you reach Hamley's, you've gone south!!)
